

33rd SUNDAY IN ORD TIME
13th NOVEMBER 2022

First Reading
Malachi 4.1-2
Responsorial psalm
Psalm 98.5-6, 7-9
Second reading
2 Thessalonians 3.7-12
Gospel
Luke 21.5-19

EXPLORING THE WORD

This text must be read from the viewpoint of Luke's community, who knew of the destruction of the temple in Jerusalem and the so-called Jewish Wars that lead to this act. Christians were being persecuted by both Rome and the Jewish people. It must have seemed that the end was near. But Luke places these words on the lips of Jesus, words designed to comfort his community and give them hope. Jesus warns his followers not to place their trust in those who purport to know God's plan for the end of time. Rather they should know that God is with them no matter what happens. In the meantime, the Church must journey on, just as Jesus journeyed to Jerusalem and to his ultimate fate. But God vindicated Jesus through the resurrection, and Christian believers will also be vindicated by God with the gift of eternal life. Their endurance will win their lives.
